Immediately after you pay the first instalment you are given access to all the tools and password in the GAC Platform so that you start transforming your life and help others.

I have a family and a busy life. Although I want to become a life coach and change my life badly, I don't have much time to spare. How much time do I need?

You will need to invest around 4-6 hours per week. We have had graduates with 3 children and very busy work schedules so if you are committed, you will most certainly find a way to make it work. Many graduates were studying at 11-2 am when their children were sleeping and reported that those were the best hours of their day.

OK, I'm ready to do this for myself, but I have a couple of additional questions. Can I call you?

You may talk to the Global Academy of Coaching Certification Ambassador to further discuss if you are a good fit for the Global Academy of Coaching Certification.

How can I know if I am a good fit for the Certification?

- If you're not willing to be honest about what you're thinking and feeling, commit to doing the work, attached to a victim and/or scarcity narrative, this won't be a good place for you to grow.
- Also, if you tend toward negative comparison and competition, aren't open to further growth, and/or hold an attitude of "I already know that", this won't be the best place for you.
- Coaching is based on change and the willingness to become more of what you already are.

We only accept students once we have interviewed them, as to see if they will be a good fit for the studies.
