How can I know if I am a good fit for the Certification?

- If you're not willing to be honest about what you're thinking and feeling, commit to doing the work, and are attached to a victim and/or scarcity narrative, this won't be a good place for you to grow.
- Also, if you tend toward negative comparison and competition, aren't open to further growth, and/or hold an attitude of "I already know that", this won't be the best place for you.
- Coaching is based on change and the willingness to become more of what you already are.
